ALBERTA GRAIN GETS BENEFITS OF SUNSHINE

Heavy Stands of Wheat Make Great Progress, Says Report

WINNIPEG, July 30.—Crop prospects in southwestern and central Alberta and in northern Saskatchewan have been improved by high temperatures reported this week, according to a statement from the agricultural department. Heavy stands of grain have made rapid progress. Similar conditions have been reported in southern Manitoba, southern Saskatchewan and parts of central Alberta. An all-out effort on crops is hard to estimate until harvesting is finished. More rainfall would help to strengthen the yield.

Rapid clearing says the report has brought early barley, oats and wheat to the cutting stage chiefly in southern Manitoba and southern Saskatchewan. The wheat wheat cutting is predicted to be fairly general by the end of next week.

Combines are at work on the Peace sub-divisions in Alberta. Light rust infection in Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan is not expected to affect the yield in any particular degree. In a few instances crops of grain and legumes have been cut to stop the grasshopper menace in southern Manitoba, and some severe local hail rains are reported.

Because of their healthy condition, cattle are putting up a good fight against fly.

After considerable hot weather British Columbia again required rain in the interior. Cattle harvesting of fall wheat is now in full swing.

U.S. Takes Up Invitation To Hold Conference

BORAH'S PLANS LIKELY BEARING MUCH WEIGHT

Administration Wants First Move to Come From Europe

WASHINGTON, July 29.—An invitation to the United States to attend the proposed monetary and economic conference today received by the state department from the British embassy. It provides that reparations, debts and tariff rates are not to be discussed at the party.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The United States department of state took under consideration today the formal invitation for participation in a world financial conference under the League of Nations as proposed by the recent Lausanne conference.

Receipt of the invitation opened the way for a world economic party such as proposed by Senator W. E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, but he would prefer a meeting initiated upon responsibility of a government preferably the United States, and with disarmament as well as war debts and reparations on the agenda.

The persistent silence of the administration over the proposal for international economic discussions has prompted speculation at the capital that something is in prospect along this line.

The invitation was the first move to come from the European debtors, accompanied by a show of disarmament. It does not appear the League of Nations session is the move that is favored.

The possibility of tariff discussions in the League of Nations meeting is not favored at all by Republican leaders, who consider this subject purely domestic.

Under the resolution adopted at Lausanne, the proposed tariff conference to devise means of raising

The sun rains part of it, waters it to rain. That helps crops.

The rest of it goes over Niagara Falls and produces power. That helps public ownership in Canada and private ownership in the American side.

If the water stayed in the lakes, rivers to be filled by the sun's rays for rain and refusing to go over Niagara Falls for power, it wouldn't be useful.

That's the condition of our vast cash resources, now, when money does not circulate.

NATURE'S laws work inexorably. No favoritism shown in these days of miracles. On Wednesday lightning damaged three churches in New York, including a fine church on Riverside Drive, built with the assistance of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

A big block of limestone disintegrated, carrying an interesting garage with it.

Beligious people once believed that lightning, threatening comets, eclipses of sun and moon, tornadoes, plagues were always ordered by the lord to do some definite things.

But, when fire destroyed San Francisco, wiping out many churches, it was observed that A. P. Healey's great liquor warehouse stood unharmed.

And in a western town, where the public hall stood next door but one to a saloon, with a church between them, lightning struck the hall, the day after the church had burned down, struck by lightning.

INGERSOLL made humorous use of that in an agnostic lecture. "Somebody seems to be a bad shot," the intelligent man, in such an incident, sees and respects the fact that laws made by Eternal Power are themselves eternal, unchanging.

THE U. S. government has discovered a "Communist" plot to injure bank credits by a whispering campaign. It should be, but is not, generally known that whispering, doing or insinuating anything to injure a bank's credit is a criminal offense.

However, government and bankers should make sure that the "red" are really the "bigger."

Should a rule, like something that explodes with a bang. They are not whisperers by nature, hence unappreciated person short of stocks might be interested in promoting lack of confidence in banks.

Some things said about the Reds remind you of Sir Boyle Roche's remark in the House of Commons: "I smell a rat; I see it floating in the air; but, sir, I will nip it in the bud."

UNCLE SAM should send kind regards to Sir Atal Chatterjee, who leads India's delegation in the Ottawa conference. Sir Atal says he and the rest of India won't "buy everything into the British Empire" and buy nothing from the United States.

India buys and sells in the outside world now one thousand five hundred million dollars' worth of goods, 70 per cent outside the British Empire, and doesn't intend to jeopardize her trade with the United States.

UNPLEASANT situation in Washington. Veterans seeking payment of their bonus at the Capitol, resented to violence, after being evicted from a building on Pennsylvania avenue.

They pursued the police for some time, but the police, having had times have not entirely weakened the veterans physically. That was proved by one huge veteran who took six policemen to put him in a pained wagon.

Health and Diet Advice

By Dr. Frank McCoy

CELERY—ONE OF THE BEST NON-STARCHY VEGETABLES—in the wild state celery stalks are thin, tough, dark green and have a rank taste, and for this reason, celery, although found wild in many parts of Europe and America, was not much used as a food in ancient times. At first celery was cultivated as a flavoring, and as the plant was domesticated, the stalks became thicker and the pleasant flavor which is so familiar to us.

While celery is still a good flavoring agent, it is very useful as a vegetable by itself, both in the raw and cooked state. Fortunately the price of celery has been gradually reduced in the last few years so that, instead of a luxury, it may now be used as a common article of diet. Ordinary celery is sold in the market both blanched and green and many people have the idea that, as with most other vegetables, the green variety is more wholesome, but I have conducted many experiments with celery and it seems that the white or blanched variety is best to use since the green variety contains more of a volatile oil which apparently causes disturbance in some people. I have never found anyone, however, who could not use the blanched celery if solid foods could be tolerated.

Every part of the celery plant may be eaten, although the stalk is more commonly used. The seeds of celery may be used for flavoring. The leaves are also effective for this purpose, but they contain a good deal of this volatile oil which I just mentioned and should not be used in large amounts.

A special type of celery is the celeriac or turnip-rooted celery. During the process of cultivation the root part of the wild celery plant was developed, so that the stalks were reduced to a minimum and the root of one plant may weigh from one-half pound to one pound or more. The outside is rough because of the many small rootlets. This vegetable is blanched whole and afterwards peeled and sliced and served either warm as a cooked vegetable or cold and added to salads.

It is a good plan to wash celery carefully before using it, both to remove any poisons which may have been sprayed on the celery to kill bugs and worms, and to remove dirt and fertilizer which may have settled on the stalks and leaves. In order to best cleanse the celery it is better to use the stalks completely apart and scrape each piece thoroughly with a vegetable brush, afterwards rinsing in several pans of running water.

Celery may be cooked in a short time if you desire. If it is cooked for as long as two hours, the fiber is changed very pleasantly without impairing the food value. A method which you may like to try is to cut off the leaves from heart celery, parboil several stalks and then lay them in a saucepan with the oven for ten or fifteen minutes. If celery is boiled as a vegetable, no seasoning should be added but the water allowed to evaporate sufficiently so that little is left when the celery is cooked and a small amount of cream or butter may be added at the time of serving.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: M. U. writes: "I have heard that in Russia they take the liver and lungs of a young calf and seal them up and boil for twenty-four hours. This is then used in treating tuberculous patients. Do you think this treatment is useful or harmful?"

ANSWER: There can be no special advantage in taking the food they have written about. A tuberculous patient needs to be dieted very carefully, but the main object of the diet should be to supply calcium deficiency and provide the best tissue-building material.

QUESTION: Mrs. Frieda O. writes: "Please give your opinion of a lunch of bread and milk (hot or cold). Are puddings, such as cornstarch, tapioca or rice, well-balanced luncheon foods?"

ANSWER: Try using Mello toast with milk in place of plain bread. You will find it no special advantage in taking the food they have written about. A tuberculous patient needs to be dieted very carefully, but the main object of the diet should be to supply calcium deficiency and provide the best tissue-building material.

QUESTION: Jack MacL. asks: "I have read that the bristles which you see in tooth brushes come from hogs, is this true? My dentist told me to keep two brushes and to sterilize a new brush before using."

ANSWER: Yes, the bristles used in tooth brushes come from hogs. It is best to keep two brushes so that one can be drying out while the other is being used. A new brush should be made sterile by washing it out with an antiseptic solution and exposing to the sun, before being used.

Horoscope

By Mary Baker

If July 31st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 2 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7:45 p.m.

A rather unsetting day is foretold by the Stars for July 31st. In the morning and forenoon premature rain showers will be common, but otherwise the day will be calm and serene, only to be followed later on by showers and cold winds.

Children born on this July 31st will be adepts at whistling. If encouraged, this will develop their talent in later years, and if not, they will be clever but not painstaking, intelligent but not intellectual.

If you were born on July 31st, you were not born under a lucky star, and this has probably been all to the good. You have learned that nothing comes by simply longing for it, and that in order to reach your year's hopes and desires you must be a doer. If you have not learned this lesson and profited by it, then your year's life will be a failure.

You are subject to moods, although you endeavor to hide the gloomy one from lookers-on. You become too easily elated and too quickly depressed. You should strive for consistency between the two. Because you find fine as a rule today does not mean that this is a permanent condition, because you are a little blither, does not necessarily signify that you are going to join the ranks of the incurables.

Your habits are good ones. You, too, are a clear thinker and a clear liver. Wait till you enjoy the good things of life, you can, with a good grace, do without them. You are adaptable and can accommodate yourself to environment, provided it is decent. You are a loyal friend and, under normal conditions, an interesting companion.

In the home circle, you will always be at the heart, and will be the centre of attraction. As a husband or a wife you will be faithful and constant. As a parent, you will be indulgent, kind and patient.

If August 1st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 a.m. to 10:45 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3:45 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and from 3 p.m. to 6:15 p.m.

Some "hang-over" from the past is apt to disturb the tranquility of your mind on August 1st, and you will not know whether you are "going or coming." There will, however, be some fresh incidents in your life which will make the day both pleasant and memorable. Young people will find it an auspicious time for all out-door sports and amusements.

The child born on this August 1st will have a character which is extraordinary complex. It will have a nature that both demands and repels affection; that longs for and yet causes sympathy. It may be led through tact and kindness, but will stubbornly resist being driven anywhere.

If, you born on August 1st, are a person of decided ambitions. Early in life you set yourself a goal, and then you study, exertive and courage have endeavored to attain it. The road so far has not been all smooth travelling, but your progress has been forward and upward, and the results more than satisfactory. You at least have the feeling that you have done your best. You are never glib, if you are a man, of "wasting your wage."

You are not over-ambitious—though always alert, and your quiet personality bespeaks confidence which you are most careful not to betray. Through your control of self, you gain control of others, and rarely speak when in a temper. There will be only a few occasions when at white heat you will let the sparks fly, and then you will be a living fury.

Your independence and pride are often all out of proportion to your strength, and it is better for you to go to bed without accepting some of the kindly proffers extended to you for a lift on your journey through life. You need to learn how to be a graceful loser as well as a winner. Your emotions, although much in evidence, are strong, and your life will not be void of its thrills. No trivial have been let down by you, and many have been helped to a higher rung of material success or happiness.

ANN HARDING
DARING STAR
AT CAPITOL

Appears in "Westward Passage" for 3 Days Starting Today

A new queen of glamour is coming into her own.

She is a golden blonde, with the classic features of a Greek goddess, the calm pose of a gentle woman and the fire of a thoroughbred. She has been perhaps the most misunderstood woman in all of Hollywood.

The world has heard much about Ann Harding, the pleasant, normal person and the distinguished actress. That picture, true enough in every respect, has obscured another and the courageous fighter who carved out a career for herself in the face of tremendous obstacles is the same Ann Harding.

The vital, gloriously alive side of the star has flashed in all of her pictures and stage work but it finds its fullest expression in her latest, RKO-Pathe film, "Westward Passage." This picture, true enough in every respect, has obscured another and the courageous fighter who carved out a career for herself in the face of tremendous obstacles is the same Ann Harding.

RIALTO BOSS LAUDS FILM

Announcing the new picture, "The Doomed Battalion," which opens at the Rialto theatre Monday, for a week's run, Manager W. J. Lauder declares this picture to be among the most novel of the pictures of the Great War produced to date.

Here's what he says about it: "While it is a great responsibility to be entrusted with the task of selecting a picture, because tastes are so different, I do not hesitate to go in the case of 'The Doomed Battalion.' This is more than just a matter of taste. It is too big, too grand to miss, and it satisfies all tastes."

It has been described as the picture of the picture. Though this may sound extravagant, I know of no better way to describe it. If you care to see the new idea in picture making, you will find it dramatic, if you thrill at the idea of something new and different, if you want a complete change of scene and atmosphere, you will make it a special point to see 'The Doomed Battalion.' Incidentally, it will be your first opportunity to see those two new stars and their new picture, 'The Doomed Battalion.' It will be your first opportunity to see those two new stars and their new picture, 'The Doomed Battalion.'

Bennett-Boles Notable Team Strand Today

Teaming of two favorite screen players is rapidly gaining in popularity with the public. The latest picture due to John Bennett and John Boles, who share leading honors in the Fox Film comedies, "The Doomed Battalion," at the Strand theatre today, Kenneth MacKenna directed this comedy, in which Minna Gombell, Weldon Hobson and Paul Rabinow have important roles.

In the latest film appearance he has the part of an Irish valet who is said to add considerably to the enjoyment of "Careless Lady."

REDUCED CAR LOADINGS
OTTAWA, July 30.—Light shipments of grain from the western division was the chief factor in reducing the car loadings for the week ending July 27 to 36,000, as compared with 37,745 cars for the previous week. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported. The index number of 60.22 was a new low for the week.

—never!"
"Neither would I; but thank goodness there isn't one among all my male acquaintances."

Bug: I'm out of luck. I can't pay my rent and they put me out.
Sally: You ought to own your own house so I do.

"I'm the man that will keep you from sinking!"
"You're some body, eh?"

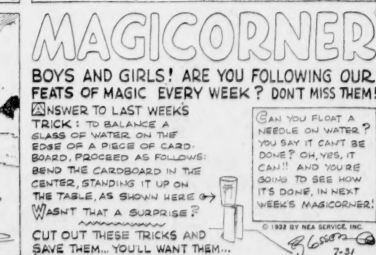

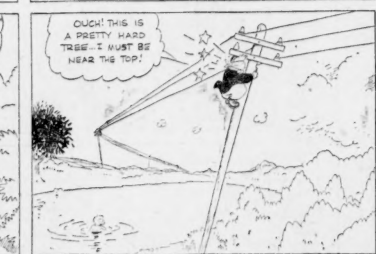

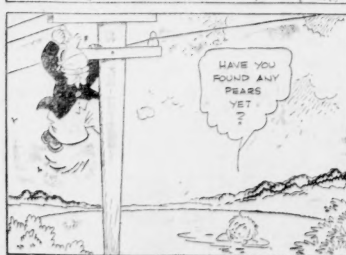

THERE WAS A LITTLE MAN
There was a little man and he had a little wife.
And the beauty that she made were like lead, lead, lead—
He said, "You mustn't cook. You're not vigorous as you look!
Which fact does prove that man
did use his head, head,
head."

Magnet: Come to my arm, my love.

Applicant: How many in the Bureau?
Lady: Two. How many in yours?

Wiley: What do you think of the way I handled the campaign in Hubby? Quite creditably, my dear, though if course it couldn't compare with the campaign
Mother used to make.

OPTIMISM
An optimist is a happy guy whose heart can be light and gay.
When a man gets up in a pinch and hits right into a double play.

"She seems to be always lifting evidence."
"That's because she's refusing to find grounds for a divorce."

"I'm wondering about my summer vacation."
"I'm not. My heart'll tell me when to go, and my wife'll tell me where."

"Don't be discouraged, there are many nice girls."
"I know it, but I've spent my whole roll on you."

WHEAT VALUES SAG TO CLOSE 1-2 CENT DOWN

WINNIEP, July 30.—Lack of export and weakness at Liverpool helped support from the wheat market today. In addition, trade volume in the short week-end session sagged to close 1-2 cent down.

July closed at 97 1/2, October at 94 1/2, and November at 91 1/2.

Prices slipped off about one cent in the early trading. After mid-session, however, an uptick at Chicago brought back some of the previous closing levels, but the high points were not regained.

Oil operations were fluctuating. Some recovery in oil prices was noted, but a further advance was in evidence both in a very early sale and the closing out of the July future was successful.

Roundhead continued the day's price of Canadian wheat were purchased by the United Kingdom and continued Friday. Crop news from the United States, particularly from the Pacific Northwest, was in evidence. The crop was estimated to be about 100 million bushels.
